DAILY DEMOCRAT.

MONDAY, - OCTOBER 27, 1856.

Dealers in Medicine.

Burke's Aspirin commands the largest sale, and is the best preparation before the public. When purchasing stock be sure and take no other.

Democrat Job Office.

Our facilities for the execution of job printing are now equal to the wants of the business men of the community, having an excellent variety of neat display type, and talent competent to its use. Our prices are exceedingly liberal. If the public desire to have any work in this line of our business, they should not fail to give us a call.

A Cheap Newspaper.

The Daily Democrat costs ten cents per week, payable to the carriers; and it is served between in all parts of the city, Portland, Shippingport, Jeffersonville, and New Albany, promptly, by faithful carriers. Every Democrat should subscribe. Who will go without the news, when it can be served them, at their own doors, bright and early in the morning, at a cheap rate? Orders left at the office, or with the carriers, will receive prompt attention.

Know-Nothing Meeting Saturday Evening—Pilcher vs. Gabriel.

It was expected that a Know-Nothing meeting would be held at the court-house on Saturday night, and Nat. Wolfe was announced as the orator. Wolfe made a partial failure, however, and General Pilcher was the only alternative. The General devoted himself mainly to the work of strengthening the failing energies of the members of the "Order" in Kentucky, sounding the idea of a Democratic triumph in the "glorious old Commonwealth" on the 4th of November; "for," said he, "the day is invariably met with defeat when I am a member of it—how could it expect to triumph, now that I have deserted it?" The General should remember that the Democratic party has derived health and vigor from recent expansions. The egotistical remark which we have quoted above from the General's speech will answer well as a reminder to the debt of gratitude due to him for his good behavior two months.

John Gill, of Jeffersonville, had crossed the river on Friday evening to attend the Theater, and, being very dramatical, he gave some unclassical readings on his own hook, and Officer Willard, Charles Anderson, Robert W. Woolley, Beriah Magoffin, and other distinguished speakers will be present.

The Great Barbecue at Gilman's.

From the preparation made and making, there is no doubt but that the barbecue at Gilman's tomorrow will be the grand event of the campaign in this region. The most ample arrangements have been effected to accommodate any number that may attend. As before announced, Governor Willard, Charles Anderson, Robert W. Woolley, Beriah Magoffin, and other distinguished speakers will be present.

Two special trains of cars will leave the depot of the Louisville and Frankfort Railroad, one at 9 o'clock, and the other at 10:30. The price of tickets both ways will be twenty-five cents.

Democracy of Louisville will be present at the民主的 mass meeting!

Police Court.

The session of the Police Court was adjourned exclusively, on Saturday morning, to the investigation of charges of drunkenness and disorderly conduct.

John Gill, of Jeffersonville, had crossed the river on Friday evening to attend the Theater, and, being very dramatical, he gave some unclassical readings on his own hook, and Officer Willard, Charles Anderson, Robert W. Woolley, Beriah Magoffin, and other distinguished speakers will be present.

Know-Nothing Meeting Saturday Evening—Pilcher vs. Gabriel.

It was expected that a Know-Nothing meeting would be held at the court-house on Saturday night, and Nat. Wolfe was announced as the orator. Wolfe made a partial failure, however, and General Pilcher was the only alternative. The General devoted himself mainly to the work of strengthening the failing energies of the members of the "Order" in Kentucky, sounding the idea of a Democratic triumph in the "glorious old Commonwealth" on the 4th of November; "for," said he, "the day is invariably met with defeat when I am a member of it—how could it expect to triumph, now that I have deserted it?" The General should remember that the Democratic party has derived health and vigor from recent expansions. The egotistical remark which we have quoted above from the General's speech will answer well as a reminder to the debt of gratitude due to him for his good behavior two months.

James Harig, who lives in the country, comes to the city occasionally, upon which occasions he doesn't "knock about to anything" in a bit of a spree. He was sentenced to give ball in the sum of $200 for his good conduct two months. Mr. Hull, of the quarry, got him too.

George, a slave of L. L. Hyatt, for drunkenness and irregular conduct, was subjected to fifteen stripes.

The consideration of a brace of peace warrants was continued until Monday.

Elizabeth, one of the Ryans sent to the workhouse on Thursday, was brought in on Saturday morning, and gave ball for her good behavior.

Wm. D. Reed, Esq., has returned to the city from an extensive and able canvass through a number of the Southwestern counties. He represents the prospects of the Democracy in that region as encouraging in the highest degree. Buchanan and Breckinridge will carry Kentucky by a triumphant majority.

Mr. Reed desires us to say that he declined to fill his appointment at Keel Mills and Elizabethtown, in consequence of an appointment for Joseph Holt, Esq., at the latter place, conflicting with his own.

He will speak at SHEPHERDSVILLE this day, and at Mr. WASHINGTON on Friday next. We hope our friends in Ballitt will turn out in masses to hear the principles of the Democracy expounded by our eloquent and talented friend Reed.

FATAL ACCIDENT.—A German laborer, by the name of Leopold Ries, living in the suburbs of the city, lost his life on Saturday under the following circumstances: Between 6 and 7 o'clock in the morning, he complained that he did not feel well, and went into a cellar-house near the Two-Mile House, on the Bardstown turnpike, to get some bitters, which he thought would benefit him. While the bar-keeper was preparing the beverage, the deceased took down a revolver hanging against the wall, and, handling the weapon carelessly, it was discharged, the contents entering his intestines. He died in a few minutes— even before Dr. Kean, his physician, could reach him. Ries sustained a good reputation, and no doubt but that the fatal result was purely accidental.

FAIR OF THE MECHANICS' INSTITUTE.—There was a less concourse of colored people at the fair, on Saturday evening. They seemed to enjoy the exhibition highly, and when the bell announced the hour of ten, many of them stood "upon the order of going."

It is not rendered certain yet when these pleasant exhibitions will terminate. Every evening now may be the last, and as we only have security for the present, all should attend the exhibition.

PERSONAL.—Mr. Louis Schroeder, son of our fellow-citizen, J. H. Schroeder, Esq., was a passenger in the steamer Herman, which arrived at New York on Friday from Bremen. Mr. S. has spent some time in Europe, having recently completed a tour of the continent.

Our young friend, Will Woodson, contemplates taking his departure for Europe in a few days, and leaves this city to-day for his home in the interior, to make the necessary arrangements.

MURDER, ROBBERY AND ARSON.—Fred. Dressen, the keeper of an "emigrant house," in Chicago, was examined on Thursday last, in Chicago, on the triple charge of murder, robbery and arson. A stranger, supposed to have considerable money, lost his life in the hotel, on Saturday evening, the 13th, in a fire which emanated in his room, and the circumstances indicated that Dressen was at the bottom of the crime. The proof, however, was not sufficient to convict him, and he was acquitted.

DOMINIC.—One of the most exciting "moral spectacles" within knowledge is a hotly-contested dog fight. Two dier-teen mastiffs had a "tooth and toe-nail" encounter yesterday morning in the neighborhood of Second and Market. A remnant of a late breakfast, which had been deposited in the gutter by a heedless servant, was the bone of contention. Various friends of the combatants, male and female, interferred and effected a restoration of quiet.

WATER PRIVILEGES.—For some cause, the water privileges of Louisville have become somewhat limited. Many wells have recently been exhausted as to yield but little water. Our City Council had made it a penal offence to fill barrels and casks from the public pumps. A new well, fifty feet deep, has just been completed at the corner of Washington and Clay streets.

PREPARATIONS FOR THE BARBECUE.—The furniture supplied by the young Democrats to convey the ladies to the great barbecue at Gilman's to-morrow, will leave Democratic Headquarters, in Eleventh street, at 9 o'clock, to-morrow morning. Those desirous to avail themselves of this means of conveyance should be prompt to the hour.

RAILROAD ACCIDENT.—On Wednesday night, says the Cincinnati Commercial, a freight train on the M. & C. Railroad came in collision with the r. & P. passenger train, near Frankfort, eighteen miles this side of Chillicothe, by which a lad named Wilson Ramsey was killed, and machine-drawn cars to the amount of near ten thousand dollars were destroyed.

A ROYAL PEPP.—C. C. Green, Esq., of this city, has been presented by the future Vice President, Maj. John C. Breckinridge, with a puppy of a rare species. He, of course, prizes the faithful little animal very highly, somewhat on account of its intrinsic value, but much more on account of the source of the present.

SPLENDID ENTERTAINMENT.—The feast, musical soiree and cotton party at that palatial public house, the Louisville Hotel, on Friday night, was a most brilliant entertainment. There was an immense throng present, and the gay party did not separate until the dawn of Saturday morning.

Speaking of Floydsburg.—Col. Sam'l E. Dehaven, the eloquent Old-Liner, having been disappointed in his late appointment at Floydsburg, Ohio, in consequence of the refusal of Col. Whitley to divide time, will address the people at that place on Saturday, November 1st, at 1 o'clock.

We call the attention of printers and publishers to the advertisement of F. Ball, and S. S. Rose, offering for sale the Cincinnati Columbian, press and type. An excellent bargain may be had.

COURT.—The October term of the Criminal Court adjourned on Friday last.

MONDAY, - OCTOBER 27, 1856.
